

Webkinz Scamming

Contributed by J. Midland

Recently, reports of people losing their Webkinz World accounts are on the rise. It seems there are thousands of scammers out there trying their hardest to cheat people out of their Webkinz accounts or their Kinzcash. Here we will expose some of the most common methods they use to rip people off.

There are many common scams people use to cheat others out of their Webkinz, Kinzcash and secret codes. Below are some of the common scams and cheats Webkinz players should be aware of.

One of the easiest and most common ways people cheat others out of their Kinzcash is by claiming to be hosting a Webkinz contest. These Webkinz "contests" usually involve you sending the supposed host gifts on Webkinz, the person who sends the coolest gift wins. It should be no secret that this is an obvious attempt to cheat you out of your stuff on Webkinz. If there is even actually a winner, he just gets one of the various crappy items that was sent by other Webkinz players. Don't get cheated out of your stuff! Some of the other secret methods of cheating people out of their stuff on Webkinz involve you giving secret codes, beware.

Webkinz cheats also commonly use your greed against you, promising to add a Secret Code to your account, or use some cheat code to get you a lot of Kinzcash. Only they want you to send them your user name and password, never do this! You should always keep your Webkinz user name and password secret, or I promise you all that money spent on your Secret Codes will go to waste when someone cheats you out of it!

If you keep these common methods of scamming in mind, your Webkinz account will be safe. You can also read about some of the other, more complex scams here .
